45 Convertible

Hatteras redefines the meaning of fishing machine—strictly in your terms.

When you step aboard the Hatteras 45 Convertible at a boat show or at your Hatteras dealer, one thing becomes abundantly clear.

Here, at last, is the ultimate warning to every fish in the world: your days are numbered.

The cockpit alone is evidence that you've got the fighting edge. It's huge for a 45-foot boat. At 132 square feet, it's bigger than the cockpits on boats up to 50 feet!

Big things and small, Hatteras ingenuity has gone to work on all of them.

An optional bait center beneath a big bulkhead window is designed for a clean, sculpted look that conceals tackle storage, sink, cutting board, and optional clutch and throttle controls. And they're all right where you want them.

A freestanding bait freezer, you ask? Certainly it's available—spacious, yet out of the way, beneath the teak-and-stainless flybridge ladder (which we designed as far to port as possible to give you even more useable cockpit space).

Aft, a large removable fishwell is available for you (flush with the sole, to be handy yet out of the way), along with a circulating live baitwell. A wide transom door for landing the big ones is, as you'd expect, standard.

The large flybridge features a complete control station console and helm chair—with the extra seating you like built-in forward. All skillfully arranged to give you maximum visibility all around.

Like every Hatteras, she is quick. Stable. Maneuverable. In short, all the things the world expects of a Jack Hargrave-designed hull built in the Hatteras tradition.

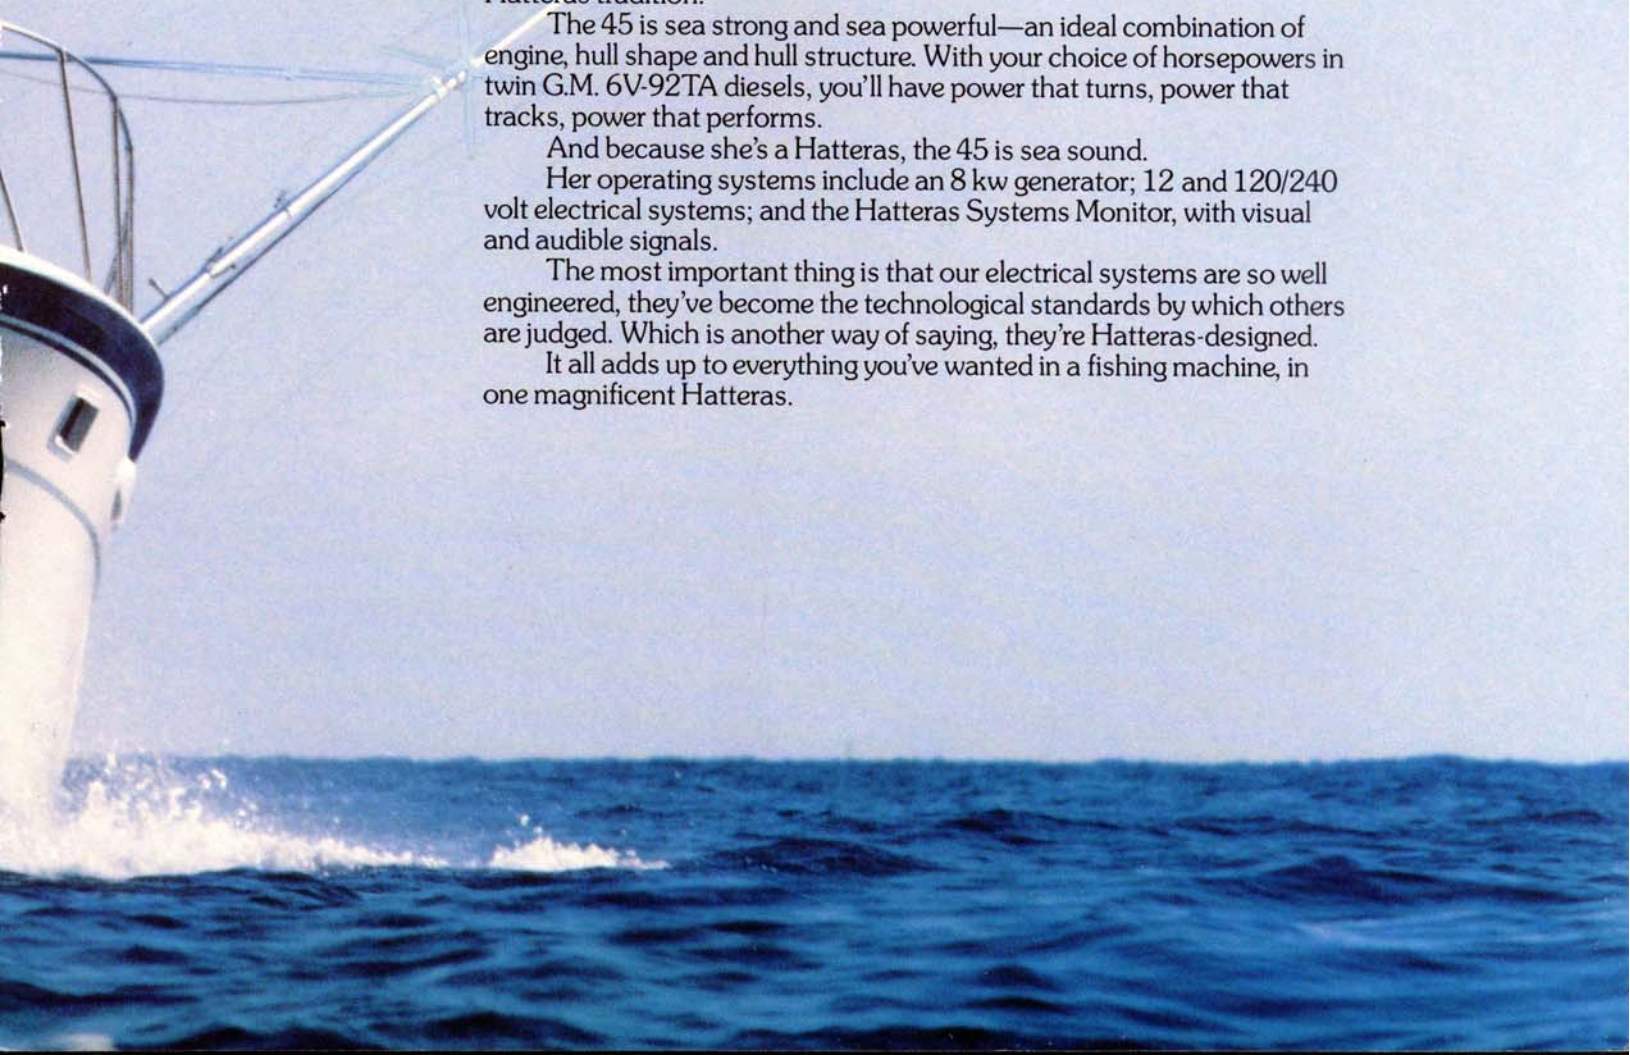

The 45 is sea strong and sea powerful—an ideal combination of engine, hull shape and hull structure. With your choice of horsepower in twin G.M. 6V-92TA diesels, you'll have power that turns, power that tracks, power that performs.

And because she's a Hatteras, the 45 is sea sound.

Her operating systems include an 8 kw generator; 12 and 120/240 volt electrical systems; and the Hatteras Systems Monitor, with visual and audible signals.

The most important thing is that our electrical systems are so well engineered, they've become the technological standards by which others are judged. Which is another way of saying, they're Hatteras-designed.

It all adds up to everything you've wanted in a fishing machine, in one magnificent Hatteras.

How do you find the balance of all the things that make fishing a pleasure? Leave it to Hatteras.

Nobody understands better than Hatteras that the total experience of the sport of fishing involves more than fishing.

And to Hatteras, that means helping you enjoy an all-around quality of life.

Some for-instances.

Hatteras designers found ways to give you an extra-generous salon, open to the galley, that makes living well as inevitable as fishing well.

The 45 Convertible has an excellently laid out 14'6" beam, which means spaciousness becoming a Hatteras, the inevitable reward for your days well spent.

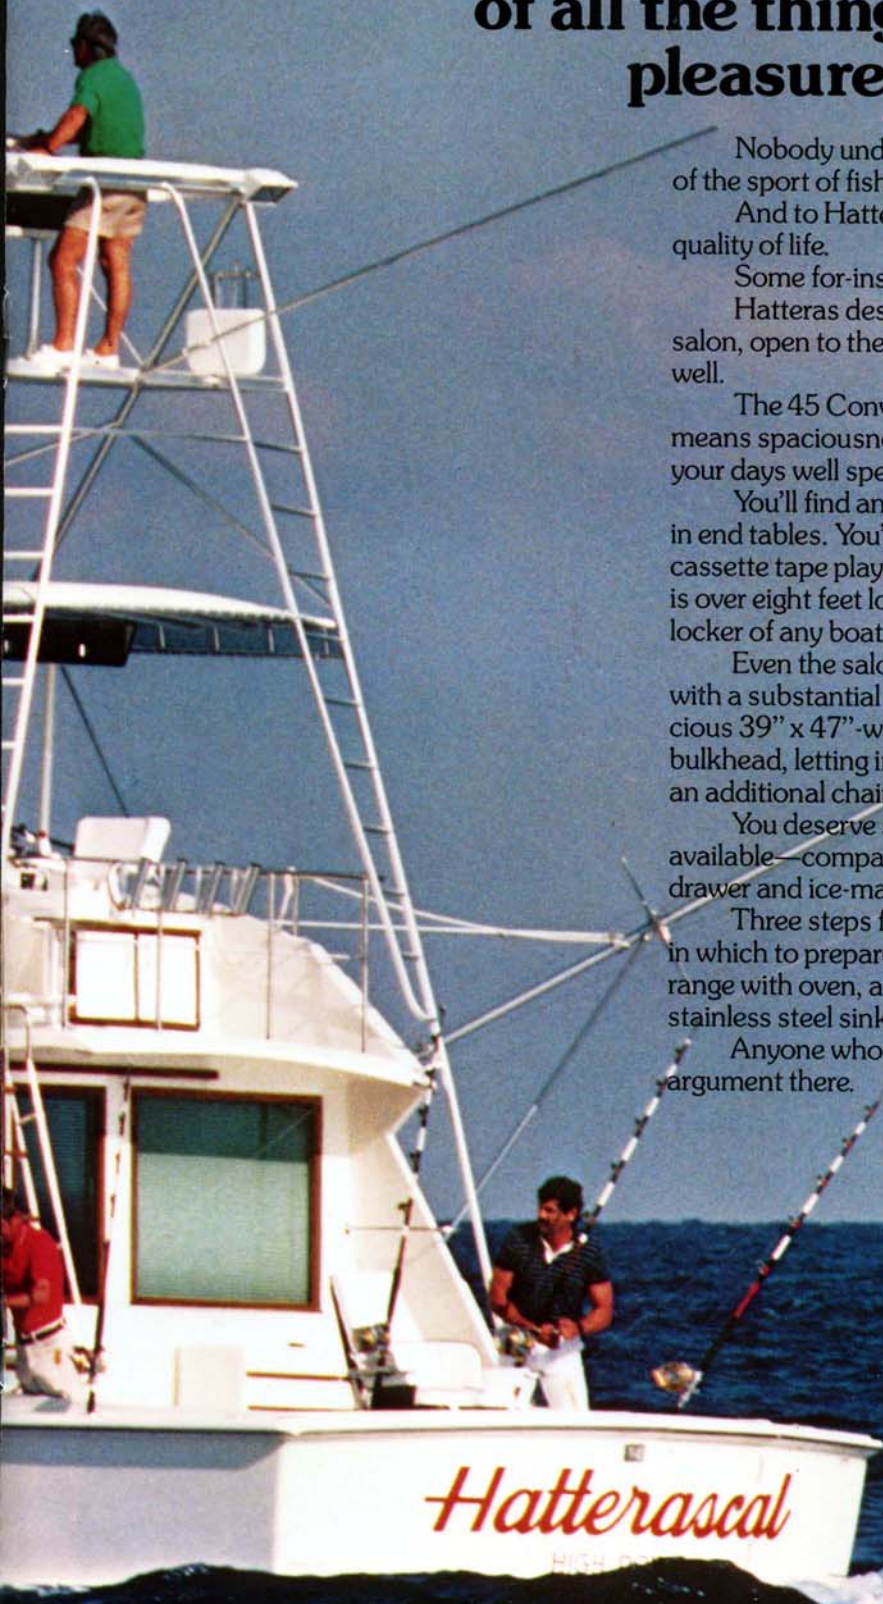

You'll find an exceptional L-shaped lounge to starboard with built-in end tables. You'll find appropriately rich carpeting . . . AM/FM stereo cassette tape player . . . sliding side windows of tinted glass. (The lounge is over eight feet long, with what you'll agree is the best rod storage locker of any boat in its class!)

Even the salon's aft bulkhead indicates a totally new arrangement, with a substantial glass-top sliding door slightly left of centerline. A spacious 39" x 47"-wide window dominates the starboard side of the aft bulkhead, letting in an abundance of light. Beneath is plenty of room for an additional chair.

You deserve something special in a wet bar, and sure enough, it's available—compact and handsome—with a pull-out glass storage drawer and ice-maker below.

Three steps forward of the salon, the galley area is a delightful area in which to prepare the rewards of the day. You'll find a three-burner range with oven, a full-size refrigerator with freezer (and ice-maker), and stainless steel sink, as well as lots of counter and storage space.

Anyone who fishes well should rest extraordinarily well—there's no argument there.

Ingenious Hatteras engineering has created unusually expansive interior accommodations. The lounge is over 8' long, with a 39" x 47"-wide window, built-in end tables, glass-top sliding door, and rich panelled bulkheads—all the luxury you expect from Hatteras, and more.

Salon looking forward. Unique, spacious L-shaped lounge, plush carpeting, AM/FM stereo cassette, and sliding side windows of tinted glass.

Built-in lounge sofa, designed expressly for this Hatteras, shown open to reveal large rod storage locker. No other yacht in this class can claim a locker of comparable capacity.

Compact Salon Wet Bar, glass rack, and automatic ice-maker option. Handsome and easily accessible from the cockpit, it offers all the amenities necessary for pleasurable days on the water and comfortable evenings dockside.

Spacious, airy, and bright, the Galley comes with a three-burner range with oven, full-size refrigerator with freezer, glass rack and stainless steel sink. Counter and storage space, as befits a Hatteras, is exceptional.

Master Stateroom, with queen-size berth option, and private access to complete head with stall shower.

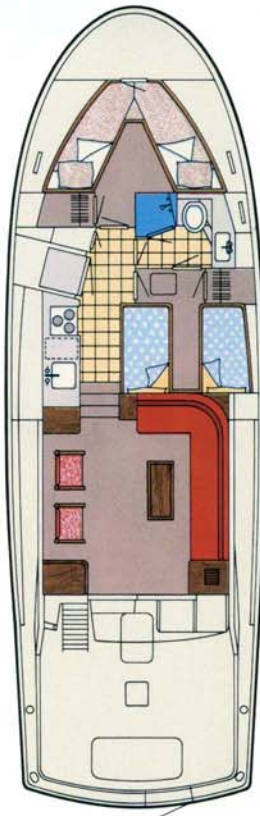

Master Stateroom with standard twin berths. Stowing plenty of gear is never a problem. The stateroom includes ample storage under each berth, as well as a nightstand with drawers and a hanging locker.

To starboard is a master stateroom with twin beds, or a queen berth you can order. Nothing short of a full-size hanging locker and plenty of drawer space. Access to a private head, complete with stall shower.

And forward, an ideal bow stateroom—vee berths, storage drawers underneath, a hanging locker.

Why, you might well ask, do we spend so much effort making so much right on a fishing machine?

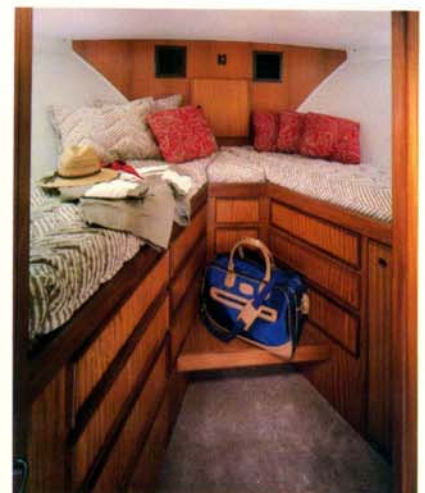

Simply because, to us, that's what Hatteras means.

Standard Floor Plan with twin berths for Master Stateroom.

Master Stateroom Head provides a full stand-up shower, linen locker, and easily-cleaned vinyl wall covering.

Private, comfortable Bow Stateroom with full-size hanging locker, frosted portlights, and storage under vee berths.
